

Listing of Claims:

1-24 (Canceled)

25. (Original) A detachable tensioning tool for use with a door system having a door frame enclosing a door opening, a door movably mounted on a track assembly attached to the door frame, a counterbalance system supported on brackets attached to the door frame and at least one tool adapter at an end of the counterbalance system, the tensioning tool comprising, a winding assembly including a housing and adapted to selectively engage and selectively rotate the tool adapter and at least one stop on said housing adapted to operate independent of the brackets to prevent rotation of said housing during tensioning of the counterbalance system.
26. (Original) A detachable tensioning tool according to claim 25, wherein said stop engages the door frame to prevent rotation of said housing during tensioning of the counterbalance system.